

What Happens After You Test?

As a drinking water laboratory, we provide test results and help you to interpret them. We are not associated Confused about what to do next?

with water treatment companies, nor do we sell water treatment systems, so you never have to worry about a conflict of interest on our part! After we help you interpret your water quality test results, we'll be happy to refer you to knowledgeable businesses in the Mat-Su Valley, should you need assistance with determining your water treatment needs.
